CROSS OR FEVERISH HALF-SICK CHILDREN

Mean Their Bowels are Waste-Clogged, Liver Sluggish and Stomach Sour.

(Advertisement.)

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and feverish. Mother! Examine the tongue! If coated, it means the little one's stomach is disordered, liver inactive and his life's feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste.

Every mother realizes after giving delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectively, besides they dearly love its delightful laxative.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, diffidence, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath, or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without pinching or nausea, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatic herbs, it causes no pain or uneasiness. It is the delicious, healthy, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, healthy, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Dickerson Run

DICKERSON RUN, Oct. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Harper have returned to their home at this place after spending two days visiting relatives and friends at Zanesville, Columbus and Cleveland, Ohio.

Engineer and Mrs. Hett Colbert are the proud parents of a new baby girl. Since the late one at handover, the Western Maryland and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie has put on a new run to handle the trade. The run is a yard track from Newell to Dickerson Run and handles all over the Monongahela division at Fayette City, and also connects with the Young Division at Whitsett Junction. This train handles all coal from the Monongahela division which goes out over the Western Maryland and makes one round trip from Newell to Dickerson Run a day.

C. C. Collins was a Dawson business caller yesterday and today inspecting the new double-track tunnel constructed for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company at Sand Catch, Kentucky, said that at the present rate of progress, he hoped to turn over to the railroad company, the tunnel complete and broken back resulting from an unpropert condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

MOTHERHOOD SUGGESTIONS

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unpropert condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

MONTANA HAS LOTS OF FUEL BUT ITS QUALITY NOT BEST

Large Areas of Lignite Scattered Over State, Much of it on Surface.

UNDEVELOPED SAVE BY FARMERS

Baker, Glendive, Sidney and Culbertson fields estimated by Geological Survey to contain 55,500,000,000 tons.

The Fort Union coal region, in eastern Montana, constitutes one of the largest fuel-bearing areas in the world. The presence of lignite throughout this region has been known since the earliest explorations of those main arteries of travel, Missouri and Yellowstone rivers, yet it was not until 1910 that the facts concerning the resources were gathered. The chief reason for this lack of investigation is that prior to 1910 the region was not included in governmental coal-land withdrawals, such as since 1906 had embraced large areas in western public-land states.

For the purpose of classifying public lands with respect to coal, the United States Geological Survey, created in eastern Montana, along the North Dakota boundary in 1910, and the results obtained by these parties are presented in a pamphlet entitled "Lignite in Montana," recently issued as Bulletin 171-1 by the United States Geological Survey.

Until comparatively recent times the region discussed in the reports was sparsely settled, its agriculture being developed only in favored localities. The greater part of the area has been devoted to stock raising, for which purpose it is ideally adapted. Of late years, however, there has been a rapid influx of dryland farmers, and practically all lands that can be tilled have been taken up and farmed. Wheat, oats and wheat being the principal crops of the general farms in the region, Glendive is considered the largest, having a population of more than 2,000.

The Baker coal field, the southernmost of the five, contains lignite that is of much better quality than that of the other fields. It is located in the center of the state, and is closely associated with the glacial drift. There are no drifts, shales, or other development work on the lignite of the Baker field, although lignite has been taken from the surface and exposures for its use at nearby. As the country becomes more thickly settled, such use will naturally increase, but it is not probable that any extensive mining operations will be undertaken there in the near future.

A bed 1 foot thick and 1 mile in extent contains approximately 1,000 tons of lignite. On this basis the quantity of lignite contained in the Baker field is not less than 30 million tons. (The minimum thickness established by the Interior Department is 18 inches in this field) is estimated to be 1,500,000,000 short tons. It is all lignite in its whole, which is 14 inches or more are taken into consideration. A moderate estimate would be 2,500,000,000 tons for the entire field.

The Glendive field is located about midway between the north and south boundaries of the state. It covers the county seat of Dawson County, near the center of the field, is a thriving town and the commercial center of the surrounding region. Considerable lignite is mined in this field from strip pits and small entries for local use. One mine in the field has been in operation for seven years. Its average output is 25 tons a day, six days a week, for four months of the year. The lignite sells at the mine for $1.25 a ton and is delivered in Glendive for $3.50 a ton.

The estimated gross tonnage of lignite in the Sidney field, which lies north of the Glendive field, is 23,720,000 short tons. This estimate is thought to be moderate because only lignite actually seen and measured have been considered and it is very probable that there are many other beds present which have not yet been reached. The area is covered by the rocks are poorly exposed. In considering the figures given, it must be remembered that little over half of the gross tonnage is recoverable under present conditions as they are based on the amount that can be mined in the Sidney field is about 12,500,000 short tons.

The estimated amount of recoverable lignite in the Culbertson field, which lies in the north-east corner of the state, is 27,830,000 short tons.

THE BEST PROOF.

Connellsville Citizens Cannot Doubt It.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they cured.

The story was told to Connellsville residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence. It has proven the cure permanent. The testimony is borne testimony. The proof is convincing. It can be inviolated by Connellsville residents.

Mrs. Lawrence Francis, 411 10th St., Connellsville, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a severe attack of kidney trouble about five years ago and I have had no return attack. This remedy has also been used by other members of our family with the most satisfactory results. It never fails to bring prompt relief from backache and kidney disorders. I value Doan's Kidney Pills highly and am glad to recommend them to others who may be suffering with any symptoms of kidney trouble." (Statement given October 7, 1907.)

CONFIDENTIAL PROOF. On October 12, 1909, Mrs. Francis was again interviewed and added the following to her former statement: "My former statement still holds good. The relief I obtained from kidney trouble by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills was permanent."

Jones Mills Woman Dead.

MT. PLEASANT, Oct. 5.—The body of Mrs. Damaris Shaw, who died at the County House, Thursday, was brought to King's Highway morgue, yesterday, and thence to the home of Milton Shaw on Washington street, in which place funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in Mt. Pleasant cemetery. Mrs. Shaw was a life-long resident of Jones Mills. Eight days ago she became demented, it was said, and was taken to the county home. She was 61 years old, and is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Harriet Peterson, Mrs. Kate Somers, of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Carrie Blinn, of Jones Mills, two sons, John of Chambersburg, and Rhea, of Southside, and a daughter, Miss Katherine, of Greensburg.

He's on the Road to Success.

Who? Why the man who submitted for a good bunch of stock in the Fayette Building & Loan Association when it was organized and has paid his dues regularly ever since. The Fayette is forcing rapidly to the front. Its stock is a sound investment, paying from 6 to 8%. Many people will soon build or buy homes with the aid of the Association. Not too late for you to join. See Geo. W. Stauffer, secretary, First National Bank.—Adv.

You, Sir, Are Not Too Old to Learn

Good clothing for men is made of Wool and Work—a little of the former and very much of the latter. There is no trickery possible in the matter of raw wool—that's nature's work, and must be taken as it comes. But the fair treatment of wool lies with the manufacturer and the merchant—and, whether they have genius or ignorance, honesty or dishonesty, depends the clothing—good or bad. There can be skinning, slighting, loading, doctoring in the spinning, weaving, scouring and cleaning of the wool.

Wright-Metzler Company.

And there can be steam saw methods on the cutter's table—just as there are in bag factories.

And machine work for everything. Slap-dash-cut-run-together-any-old-way, for it is only a matter of making clothing to sell by the looks of it!

Hundreds of men are victimized by just this sort of thing right here in Connellsville as well as in every city in America. They pay out good hard dollars and wonder and wonder why they never get the worth of them.

There is no need for it. Good tailors are to be had—good as ever were—and their skill will show in a hundred suits or a hundred overcoats as well as in a single one of either.

In our Men's Clothing Store you will find right now the right clothing for Fall and Winter—and every bit of it made by tailoring establishments—by specialists—who are, every one of them, fit to make clothing for the most particular man. It costs more—costs us more—not you; but it keeps us our customers and brings us new ones.

You will find clothing that looks like ours elsewhere—but you won't find the same goodness in clothing elsewhere. Our part is done. The new styles for Fall are all here. You will look them over, will you not?—today?—or at your leisure.

Business Suits $10 to $40.
 Black and blue Suits $12 to $30
 Norfolk Suits—blue and grey, $12.50 and $17.50 to $25.
 Fall Overcoats $15 to $30.

The Women---

What do they say of your hat, sir? Is it praise or condemnation or a polite silence? It is a good thing to have a hat that will move a woman to compliment.

The Section of Dress on the Second Floor Is an Open Book of Correct Styles for Women and Girls.

We've heard women of fashion, who make it a point to see what all the good stores—in town and out—are showing, remark, "there seems to be some difference in your apparel, not so noticeable elsewhere."

And There is a Difference—

All the world knows how strongly women's apparel has been influenced by the orient—that land of mystery and fascination; how its enchanting color, its strange embroideries, its fabrics—at once so supple and so rich, have been seized upon and translated into gowns and wraps of distinction and charm.

The Store that Bought at Random.

Make any comparison of what's right and what's all wrong in its offering to women who are style-posted. We had our eyes open and bought scantily until actual styles were established.

Here, This Eastern Quality Appears

Not only in the luxurious gowns and wraps for evening, but runs through the entire gamut of women's clothes, until the simplest morning frock may have a touch of startlingly vivid color, or a bit of lace somewhere—a reminiscence of that land of magic.

The Lines of the Figure

With such fashions it is inevitable that they should be oriental or classic—in other words, the most natural lines possible. But the straight foundation is modified by draperies—soft and clinging round the feet, in the evening gowns; merely suggested in the day gowns and tailored suits. The soft flowing lines of the shoulder and arm are preserved alike by the oriental sleeves and the long close sleeves.
